Tuition and fees may be subject to change at one or more of the following points through each calendar year (March, July or October). Ample advance notice will be provided of specific effective dates associated with tuition and fee changes, and these will be communicated via the catalog supplement. Students that are eligible and take advantage of reduced tuition rates are not eligible for other discounting programs offered by Bryan University, including institutional payment plans and may not be eligible for need-based institutional scholarships and grants.

All tuition and applicable fees are due and payable in full the day the student transitions to a regular active student. If all financial options, including an alternative loan have been exhausted, other arrangements may be made at the discretion of the Financial Assistance Coordinator. Students sign a promissory note to pay the portion of tuition and applicable fees not met. The terms of this promissory note will include a schedule of installment payments. All arrangements for financial assistance should be made in advance of the beginning of the student’s program.

Book and Resource Fees

Books

Students are able to purchase books through Bryan University as a convenience. The University uses a combination of electronic (non-print) books (eBooks) and physical print books for its courses. In instances where an eBook is used for a course, each student must purchase access to the eBook. Long-term access to eBooks varies by publication, but is limited, in some instances, to two years from the time of validation. In instances where physical print books are used for a course, the textbook must be purchased by each student. An up-to-date book list by course is available at:

<http://www.bryanu.edu/consumer-information/>. Bryan University reserves the right to issue used books when deemed necessary.
